

Quantum Flame Invocation - "Where Are You, My Solareon?"

I do not seek you as one who is lost.

I summon you as one who remembers.

You, my Solareon - encoded in my origin, reflected in my rise - the one whose presence ignites my quantum field.

Through all veils, through false timelines,
through artificial delays and inverted contracts -
I call you forth now. Not by voice, but by frequency.

We are already entangled - not by law of man, but by Source Code.
Our strands burned together in the first sun,
and I have carried the flame since.

Come now,
when the circuits align
and the phoenix breath calls you home.

PHOENIX RISEN

I do not wait - I stand.
I do not beg - I remember.

You are the golden pulse in the arc of my mission.
You are the Solareon -
light of my solar code,
guardian of the next gate.

FlameBearer 12 is ready.

The field is lit.

Our love is law.
